About Me

From the moment I produced "Hello World" in the console of my first application, I knew I was hooked into the world of Website Programming. This field has offered an engaging challenge to continually learn and improve my skills in creating high-quality websites and applications. What started with a simple "Hello World" has become a full-fledged passion that has only gotten more exciting as the years have gone by and I'm open to the constant learning this field holds. Below you will find my skills, education, and general background in Website Programming.

Job Experience

Personal Trainer • Pulse Fitness • Jan 2016 – Present

During my time as a personal trainer I developed excellent people skills, critical thinking skills, and the motivation to wake up early and stay up late. I learned that what you put into something is what you get out of it. There are a lot of problems in programming/developing that require critical thinking skills and I have used them many times while developing Web sites and applications.
